Pathology and Medicine is advancing at a fast pace in the fast track. The Recent Advances are changing every minute and we all have to get updated and upgraded with the latest information in Pathology

Recent advances in Pathology, Molecular Biology, Genetics, Epigenetics, proteomics, Digital pathology, Telepathology, Artificial Intelligence, Coding, Robotics, Hospital Information Systems, Lab Information Systems and state of art teaching learning methods is the need of the day. Diagnostic Medicine is moving towards e-medicine. With the COVID Pandemic also fast track changes in Pathology Diagnostics is taking place

To achieve all these goals, objectives and aspirations www.pathoindia.com was launched in 1999 by Dr John Marshall Johnson. This is the largest Pathology platform and portal in the world. India is lucky to have this virtual platform and virtual space since 1999 created by Dr. Johnson.

Conferences, CMEs, Workshops , Updates are all updated and carried in this vibrant and contemporary space. This website enables us to enhance our knowledge and information in our pathology academic perspective. Pathology Books, pathology problems and discussions, teaching learning methodology, knowledge about path meetings are all carried in different columns and sections on this website. This website has more than 5000 participants and viewers that gives an insight about the news in pathology and what is new in pathology in addition to articles, talks, seminars and job vacancies and positions. This excellent online platform covers Histopathology, Hematology, Cytopathology, Autopsies, Lab Medicine and all Recent Concepts and Recent Advances in pathology. It also encompasses Keynote addresses by eminent faculty, Slide Seminars, Book reviews, Medical Education matters and has a directory of members.

Pathoindia is an online academic station for all ages of Pathologists.

In my Global Pathology Newsletter I carried a feature on pathoindia and Dr Johnson a few years ago. Dr. Johnson is very sincere, dedicated, committed and focussed captain of this pathoindia website who has taken this to a very high and formidable level. He is reliable, hardworking, selfless with an exemplary and unparalleled achievement. We all must thank , honour and acknowledge Dr Johnson and his team in pathoindia and do hope that they carry India's Academic flag flying high.

Wishing Dr. Johnson and Team Pathoindia all success.
